GAMBLING CASES POSTPONED. Justice Howell Continues Hearing to March 18.

The cases against the various employes and proprietors of gambling houses came up yesterday for postponement and went over this time till March 18, by order of Police Justice Howell. Mrs. Corbett, who swore to the warrants for the arrest of the gamblers, was notified by messenger that she need not appear. The reason given this time for the postponement was that some of the officers by whom it was to be proved that there is gambling going on in Ogden are too ill to testify.

Mrs. Corbett states that it has now been nearly two months since she laid formal complaint before the cify at-torney that the law is being violated.

by Police. Officer Pincock yesterday morning captured two men who held up and robbed an old man named Thomas Dickey in the southern end of the U. P. yards, about 3:30 in the morning. Dickey had come into town from Salt Lake with two other men who give the names of William Watson and Robert Lister. The three had knocked around the town for a while and in a lonely part of the town Dickey's companions pointed out two other men who they claimed were lying in walt to waylay laimed were lying in wait to waylay hem. Suddenly the old man was nocked down and when he recovered Officers Hutchins, Chambers and Pincock went out after the culprits and Pincock got to them first. One of the men confessed to the job.

Power Company and Farmers Get

Down to Business. The farmers of the county have at last got down to business with the Utah Light & Power company and are preparing to organize a company for the purpose of building a reservoir in Ogden valley for the storage of water Ogden valley for the storage of water to be used in irrigation and in the generation of mechanical energy. The representatives of the different canal companies and others owning rights in Ogden river met yesterday afternoon and considered the estimates in detail It was found that the farming interests represented would require water to the amount of 200 cubic feet per second. The dam which it is proposed to build will store enough for double that natural flow of the river is ample.

A committee was appointed to draft articles of incorporation and this committee is to meet next Thursday in the office of the Utah Light & Power company. The members of the committee are Nathaniel Montgomery, R. S. Campbell, Le Grand Young, W. L. Stewart, R. P. Hunter, George W. Mrand Mrs. Fr. Bramwell, Walter W. ## NEW INDUSTRY FOR LOGAN.

A Condensed Milk Factory With a

Daily Capacity of 100,000 Pounds.

Logan, March 7.—Logan will likely add another industry to its growing list of enterprises. A gentleman from Maine, but who is prominently identified with the condensed milk and dairy interests of the United States, left here this morning after thoroughly acquainting himself with conditions here with a view to establishing a big condensed milk factory here. He has succeeded in enlisting the aid of Mayor Lorenzo Hansen, who is one of the largest creamery operators in the state, and if the factory is established Mr. Hansen will likely run it. The latter will go east shortly to acquaint himself with the details of the milk-condensing business, and also to examine the references of the Maine main.

In all probability the factory will be built here. It will be of sufficient capacity to handle 100,000 pounds of milk daily, and will employe nearly 100 men. It will supplant Mr. Hansen's big creamery, which is located here.

About 10 o'clock yesterday Mr. Goetschius' attorney filed an action for a divorce. As soon as the papers had been recorded he took them from the office, hence the grounds upon which he bases his action could not be learned. Three hours later Mrs. Goetschius was brought into court and adjudged insane by Referee Eldredge upon the recommendation of Drs. Mayo and Odell.

The contention is made that inasmuch as the investigation into the mental capacity of Mrs. Goetschius was brought several days before her husband entered suit for divorce, he cannot, under the statutes, secure the separation which he desires. However, this will come up when the case is called.

DIVORCEES TRY IT ONCE AGAIN.

F. W. Lochridge and Mrs. Cora L. Turner Are Married. Within about twenty-four hours after being divorced by his wife, F. W. Lochridge was yesterday married in the county clerk's office to Mrs. Cora L. Turner, also a divorcee. Both are residents of this city.

The Lochridge couple were married in Sherman, Tex., Nov. 1, 1899. In his complaint he swore that she deserted him on Aug. 30, 1901. In her deposition Mrs. Lochridge swore that he left her at Texarkana the latter part of August, 1901, on the pretext of hunting work in another city, and then wrote her that $3,000 1991, on the pretext of hunting work in 42,000 another city, and then wrote her that 21,000 it was better that they separate for 44,000 good. ## Dr. E. S. Payne yesterday pleaded not gullty to the information charging him with the death of Miss Anna Hill, a school teacher. The plea was entered before Luke M. school teacher. The plea was entered before Judge Morse after he had overruled the demurrer to the information. The matter was argued at length by the attorney for the physician and Distriet wittorney Dennis C. Elchnor. After denying the demurrer, the judge arraigned the prisoner, who was in court, and remanded him for this in his for-

Holman and Coleman Arraigned. Herman Holm of Bingham was ar raigned before Judge Morse yesterday on the charge of mayhem, and pleaded not guilty. It is alleged that on Dec. 25, 1902, Holm, while engaged in a fight with Axtel Rhodes, bit off the middle finger of his right hand. John W. Coleman, charged with poisoning a dog belonging to E. W.
